Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Hog-Raising in British Columbia On the average, one breed of hog will make as good gains as another on a given amount of feed. The difference in breeds lies in the kind of carcass produced. It can be readily seen, therefore, that the question so often asked, Which is the best breed? cannot be answered. Each breed satisfies different requirements, and a man must make his own choice. It is not necessary for the ordinary farmer to use pure-bred sows for raising hogs for slaughter, but, at any rate, he should use a registered boar of the breed he prefers. Pedigree breeding has been the means of improving all our modern breeds of live stock, so that every farmer owes it to himself to use registered sires to keep his stock up to standard. A pedigree, however, is not always a criterion. A sire must be a good individual in himself. The possession of a pedigree alone will not make him a satisfactory breeding animal. A short description of the breeds most suitable for British...
