Recommendations There is no single step that, if taken, would create a connected nationwide system of health information. This Commission has organized the steps needed to create such a system into three categories: adoption, interoperability, and connectivity. These categories were formed acknowledging the obvious overlap, but recognizing a need to structure recommendations to facilitate understanding. Adoption focuses on the challenge of getting clinicians and consumers to use computer programs and information networks to maintain healthcare records, access relevant information about patients background and illness, and oer support for safer, better decisions. Adoption includes the need to train doctors and other caregivers to ensure they are able to adopt these technologies eectively in their practices, provide technical support so clinicians do not need to become computer technicians, and make clinicians and consumers aware of the benets and the privacy safeguards of these systems. The issues of adoption also require addressing the di cult economic and regulatory issues slowing investment and...
