And the reactive influence from which so much has been expected is to a great degree canceled in its benefits by our inelastic mechanical methods. How imperative, then, are the demands for a more thorough Christianization at home! If there is a stand-still here, there must of necessity be a stand-still in the work abroad. If there is retrogradation here, the same will be true of all the great enterprises that look directly toward a nation's or a world's evangelization. The ability of the churches to grow and occupy their respective parishes for Christ, holding the ground firmly as they spread themselves, decides their ability to gain possession of the world. Thus prospering in the spirit and by the power of Christ in them, they will send forth laborers of truly apostolic character, and as many as are needed; laborers born...
